Four-year company veteran brings positive attitude, energy to position

Crystal Lake, Ill., March 24, 2017 – Patrick Doczi, a four-year veteran of National Gift Card (NGC), has been named the company’s new Director of North American Operations, a role he sees as being essential to the ongoing development of a highly-focused customer service team.

Doczi, who most recently served as the Supervisor of the Activations Department at NGC, says helping all employees embrace a “can do” attitude is what continues to excite him.

“It’s fun to see everyone, no matter what his/her title is, working together to ensure that NGC delivers a high-quality service,” he said.

Doczi, a graduate of Southern Illinois University Carbondale, joined National Gift Card in 2013. He previously worked in a customer service role in the food industry.

An avid sports fan, Doczi coaches a travel basketball team in the Chicago area.

At work, Doczi continues to see opportunities to problem solve and brainstorm new fulfillment opportunities for clients and vendors.
